For years, Lara was tormented . . . until YOU showed her true freedom and hope

Even when she was awake, Lara couldn't escape the image that haunted her sleep: snakes . . . venomous, dark, and after her.

"I grew up in a home where occult practices took place," says Lara from Syria. "I used to see spirits moving and hear voices." Since she was ten, these terrifying nightmares came to torment Lara.

After she got married, the night terrors worsened. "I even consulted fortune tellers, but nothing helped," Lara says. "I struggled with depression and considered suicide."

There was no peace for Lara. Her family's religion offered no comfort. After her son was born, she dreaded the night hours all the more.

"He would cry all night for no reason," she says. Lara's home felt like a target of darkness.

Then, one sleepless night, everything changed.

Lara would often turn the television on to calm her crying baby. In the middle of the night, as Lara was changing the channel, SAT-7 KIDS flickered on the screen. "As soon as the Bible stories began, my son fell asleep!" says Lara. "From then on, whenever I turned on the channel, he would sleep peacefully."

For 15 days, Lara watched SAT-7 KIDS in the dark, cradling her son. Then, the story of Jesus aired. "At the end of the program, a girl said, 'I accepted Christ. If you would like to accept Him, pray this prayer with me.'"

Lara listened and whispered the prayer with the presenter. Right there in her living room, she said YES to a relationship with Jesus!

Hearing her prayer, Lara's husband came into the room. He too committed his life to Christ! "He embraced me, and we both cried and prayed together," says Lara. "From the day we accepted the Lord as our Savior, everything began to change. My son stopped crying, my nightmares ended, and our work began to prosper."

This is the miracle-working power of your gift in places like Syria.

Through SAT-7, Lara and her family learned to live in full reliance on the Lord – so when violence came knocking, they experienced the divine protection of their Shepherd.

Unrest was rising in Syria. And one night, both homes on either side of Lara's apartment were attacked. "But violence did not come near our home," she says. "Even though terrorists were in our apartment building, we experienced the Lord's protection."

Lara and her family fled to Lebanon. And despite continued resistance, she longs to grow deeper in Christ. "I face opposition from my family and those around me because of my faith," says Lara. "We do not attend church because we are keeping our faith somewhat hidden, and there is no church nearby."

Thank you for continuing to support Christians like Lara as they learn to grow in the likeness of Jesus!

"I DESIRE TO ATTEND CHURCH AND GROW IN DISCIPLESHIP. I AM EAGER AND READY TO DEEPEN MY FAITH."

"I want to get closer to the Lord in a genuine, ongoing relationship,"
Wael told us . . .

Living in Egypt, Wael didn't grow up knowing Christ. Only an extreme few in his country do. But your generosity is making God's love visible despite cultural opposition.

Through one conversation with SAT-7's Viewer Support Team, you opened Wael's eyes to a true relationship with Jesus! He heard about God's love and redemptive plan, and he accepted Jesus as Lord!

She was just looking for an escape.
Instead, she found life.

Bagha knew the risk. She was single – which, in Algeria, meant that once she accepted Jesus, she had no husband to protect her from the dangers and pressures of her society.

"My faith in Christ in the beginning was just a way to escape my religion," says Bagha. But God was relentless in His pursuit of her. "I searched and began to understand more about Christ. Jesus died because of my sins, and He was resurrected for my sake. He is the way, the truth, and the eternal life," Bagha says. Her journey as a believer continues to be strong and purposeful, thanks to you!

You helped this family find freedom from addiction!

In Iran, a SAT-7 program illuminated Ghazal's television screen. It was about addiction – and her brother, who was using drugs, watched beside her.

"We contacted the program to ask for prayer," says Ghazal. "They prayed for my brother, who did not have faith in anything. He felt touched by the Lord. From then on, he took quitting seriously and attended the 12-step program. He has stayed away from drugs and has made it his goal to follow Christ. These events and miracles all caused me to acknowledge Jesus Christ and pray to Him while watching one of your programs. My husband has also looked to Christ now!"

Have you ever wondered how God reaches people searching for hope when faith must remain hidden?

Across the Middle East and North Africa, many believers follow Christ quietly, often without access to churches or even other Christians. Lara's story is just one example.

She and her family encountered Christ in their home through a simple salvation prayer on their television. Lara found protection, renewed hope, and freedom from fear.

That's the power of your gift to reach truth-seekers . . . the Lord uses your partnership to broadcast His light straight into family living rooms.

Lara still faces great opposition for her faith. But today, she has the assurance that God sees her wherever she is, and SAT-7's Viewer Support Team continues to support her with discipleship and prayer. Thank you!
